IDENTIFYING YOUR CATHOLIC ANCESTORS
GENEALOGY WORKSHOP SERIES
SESSION 4

ARCHDIOCESAN INDICES AND DIGITAL RESOURCES - OCTOBER 3, 2020
It's time for the 4th session of a 6-week Zoom collaboration between:

- The City Archives & Special Collections at New Orleans Public Library
- Office of Archives and Records of the Archdiocese of New Orleans
- New Orleans Catholic Cemeteries (NOCC)

Today we will explore available indices and digital resources offered by the Office of Archives and Records of the Archdiocese of New Orleans and New Orleans Catholic Cemeteries Welcome!

- Please make a note of any questions you have during the presentation and reserve them until we open the Chat function at the end.
  - We will address the content of this presentation only. If your question pertains to a future presentation, please save it!
  - We will get to as many questions as we can by 12:15.
- Recordings of each session will be made available on the "Programs and Presentations" page at archives.nolalibrary.org on the Tuesday following, so don't worry if you can't write as fast as we talk! You will be able to view the presentation again any time on our YouTube channel.

Welcome to the New Orleans Cemetery Database, an online resource providing free access to digitized versions of cemetery-related records housed at The Historic New Orleans Collection. The information presented is part of an expanding collection of resources that will allow searching of the data contained in the Survey of Historic New Orleans Cemeteries—including names engraved on tombs, historical and contemporary condition reports, and photographs—and provide a guide to published, archival, and digital cemetery resources available from various authors, repositories, and institutions.

Currently available for viewing are the 1981 cemetery surveys of St. Louis Cemetery No. 1 and St. Louis Cemetery No. 2 produced by The Historic New Orleans Collection and Save Our Cemeteries and additional condition reports from a survey of St. Louis Cemetery No. 2 produced by the University of Pennsylvania’s historic preservation graduate program in 2010-2012.

This multi-phase project involves collaboration with The Historic New Orleans Collection, Tulane School of Architecture’s Master of Preservation Studies program, Tulane University Law School, and Save Our Cemeteries. This project is supported by the École nationale des chartes in Paris, University of Pennsylvania’s Historic Preservation department, and the Archdiocese of New Orleans. Funding for the project was made possible through the generosity of Mary Louise Mosby Christovich in establishing the Christovich Excellence Fund for Historic Preservation and in partnership with Tulane University Law School.

The maps provided by the Archdiocese of New Orleans and New Orleans Catholic Cemeteries serve as guides to cross-reference the tomb numbers used during the surveys with those utilized by New Orleans Catholic Cemeteries. In the maps labeled "with THNOC tomb numbers," THNOC numbers are indicated in red; a red X signifies the plot was empty when the THNOC survey was completed in the early 1980s.
